1. Project Overview & Production Approach

Title	Aakhri Allah Hafiz (The Last Goodbye)
Logline	A hardworking orphan from Karachi wins a scholarship to become a pilot — and is murdered at the airport on his return by the uncle who raised him, for the sake of a house.
Setting	Present-day Karachi, Pakistan (neighbourhood lanes, a grocery shop, a government school, Jinnah International Airport, a cemetery) and a university campus in China.
Timeline	Prologue: childhood (Bakhtawar 10). Main story: age 17–18. China: 4 years. Return: age 22.
Runtime	Approx. 9 min 40 s · 12 scenes · 86 planned shots
Core theme	Greed and envy destroy what sincerity and hard work build.
Audience	General audience, family-safe: violence is implied, never shown.
Visual style	Naturalistic cinematic realism. Warm amber for home and childhood, cool blue-white for China, desaturated blue-grey for loss.
Narrative device	Voice-over narrator (dastan-go style) frames the story; dialogue carries emotion.

Production approach — 95% writing, 5% generation

The brief asks for 95% of effort on writing and only 5% on generation. This package therefore front-loads every creative decision on paper: story, characters, emotions, dialogue, camera, sound, and technical specs are all locked before anything is generated. Generation is limited to 12 key frames and 4 short hero clips (Section 11), because a well-written shot list means the tool is only executing decisions that have already been made.

2. What Was Improved from the First Draft

Issue in first draft	Fix in this version
Name spellings varied (Bakhtwar / Bakhtawar, Shahna / Shahana / Shana).	Standardised: Bakhtawar Khan, Shahna Sultan, Hareem, Gull Khan, Haleema, Ali Ustad.
Style said “retro 1990s”, but the story has scholarships abroad and phone calls.	Set in present-day Karachi. Only the prologue uses a warm, grainy “memory” look.
Haleema’s “khaufnak sazish” was narrated but never shown.	New night scene in Scene 08 shows the plot and the property papers.
Gull Khan’s motive was unclear.	Motive made visible: he is kind only until Bakhtawar turns 18 and can claim his share (Scene 02), with property-file inserts.
Nobody at the airport was unexplained.	Gull Khan gives Hareem the wrong date, Shahna is in her last exam, his phone is off (Scenes 08–10).
Storyboard had 4 unnumbered scenes; script had 8.	12 numbered scenes, 86 shots, each with camera, angle, movement, lens, audio.
Murder scene was risky for taste and for AI generation.	Violence is implied through sound, a dropped suitcase and a ringing phone. No weapon, wound or blood is shown.
Only 3 prompts; two tools/ratios mentioned (9:16 or 16:9).	12 prompts with character-consistency blocks; one ratio (16:9).
Grave scene dialogue was vague.	A paper-aeroplane motif is planted in Scenes 04 and 06 and paid off at the grave in Scene 12.
No emotion, voice or technical direction.	Added: emotion map, voice direction per line, performance direction, sound cues, technical spec.

3. Synopsis

One-line

A boy's dream of flying is grounded by the family that was meant to protect him.

Short synopsis (about 60 words)

Bakhtawar, a gifted and hardworking boy in Karachi, loses his father and is left behind by his mother. Raised by a greedy uncle, he works in a grocery shop, endures humiliation, and wins a scholarship to train as a pilot in China. When he returns after four years to marry his closest friend, his uncle has him killed rather than share the family home.

Full synopsis

Act I — The boy who dreamed (Scenes 01–05). Karachi, a boy of ten is put to work in a grocery shop after his father dies and his mother remarries. His sister Hareem and he live with their uncle Gull Khan, who pretends to love them while quietly counting the days until Bakhtawar turns eighteen. Bakhtawar's only comforts are his sister, his neighbour and best friend Shahna, and his dream of becoming a pilot. At seventeen he is slapped in front of customers by Ali Ustad, the shop owner, after years of mistreatment, and decides to quit.

Act II — The climb (Scenes 06–08). Bakhtawar applies for a scholarship in China. Four months later he is accepted and tells Shahna first, folding a paper aeroplane as her "first ticket". At the airport, Shahna, Hareem and Gull Khan see him off. Over four years he studies relentlessly while Shahna trains in pharmacy and looks after Hareem. Back home, Haleema, Gull Khan's wife, cannot stomach his success. At night the couple plans against his return as Shahna's family formally proposes a match with Bakhtawar.

Act III — The last goodbye (Scenes 09–12). On a transit call, Bakhtawar teases Shahna about the engagement. His final "Allah Hafiz" to her is his last. At Karachi airport nobody is waiting: Gull Khan has given Hareem the wrong date, and his phone is off. As Bakhtawar walks into the sunset, hired men kill him; the film stays on a dropped suitcase and a ringing phone. Shahna collapses, and he is buried while she is unconscious. She reaches his grave, places the paper aeroplane on it, and mourns the life that was stolen.

Three-act structure

Beat	Scene	What happens
Opening image	01	Karachi dawn; a boy in a grocery shop looks up at a passing aeroplane.
Inciting incident	05	Ali Ustad humiliates Bakhtawar; he quits and commits to his dream.
Plot point 1	06	Scholarship offer arrives; Bakhtawar's world opens up.
Midpoint	07–08	Departure; Haleema and Gull Khan begin to plot against his return.
Plot point 2	09–10	Final "Allah Hafiz"; nobody is at the airport.
Climax	10	Bakhtawar is killed outside the terminal (implied).
Resolution	11–12	Shahna's grief at the grave; closing line on greed.

Themes

- Greed versus sincerity: the house matters more to Gull Khan than the lives in it.
- Sacrifice and siblinghood: Bakhtawar leaves to give Hareem the life she deserves.
- Misplaced trust: the victim never sees the danger because the villain smiles.
- The price of a dream: hard work earns a future that cruelty then removes.

Motifs and symbols

Motif	Meaning and use
Paper aeroplane	Bakhtawar's dream and his promise. Seeds: Scene 01 (counter), Scene 04 (Hareem), Scene 06 (Shahna's "first ticket"). Payoff: Scene 12 on the grave.
"Allah Hafiz"	Farewell spoken three times: to Shahna at school (hope), at the airport (pride), on the call (the last one).
The house / "Khan Manzil" nameplate and property file	The true motive. Appears in Scenes 01, 02, 06 and 08.
Clocks and watches	Time pressure and stolen time: Scene 04 (late), Scene 08 (four years), Scene 10 (waiting), Scene 11 (twelve hours).
Doorframes and windows	Gull Khan is often framed through doors (watching, hiding). Bakhtawar is framed in open skies and windows.
Sunset	Scene 10 and Scene 12: the day and the dream both end.

4. Character Building — Character Sheets

Each sheet covers role, age, appearance, personality, motivation, voice, emotional arc and acting direction. The last row gives the exact text block to reuse in every AI prompt so the character looks the same across shots.

4.1 Bakhtawar Khan — Protagonist

Role	The dreamer. A gifted, loyal boy who carries his sister's future on his shoulders.
Age	10 (prologue) · 17–18 (main story) · 22 (return)
Look & costume	Lean, medium height, short black hair, expressive dark eyes; light stubble at 22. Child: oversized hand-me-down shirt. Teen: faded white school shirt, grey trousers, worn black shoes. China: plain jackets, scarf. Return: fitted navy jacket with a small silver pilot-wings pin.
Personality	Hardworking, intelligent, patient, trusting, warm with Hareem. Hides pain behind jokes. Dignified even when humiliated.
Want / need / flaw / fear	Want: to become a pilot and give Hareem everything she wishes for. Need: to recognise that trust must be earned (he never learns it — the tragedy). Flaw: trusts too easily; swallows mistreatment in silence. Fear: being a burden; leaving Hareem alone.
Voice direction	Soft, mid-low pitch. Natural Karachi Urdu rhythm. Speeds up when excited, drops to a near-whisper when hurt. Never shouts, even at breaking point. Light teasing laugh with Hareem.
Emotional arc	Lonely and protective (01–04) → humiliated, then resolved (05) → elated (06) → brave and tearful (07) → driven (08) → joyful and playful (09) → hopeful, uneasy, shocked (10).
Acting direction	Looks slightly down when hurt. Fists clench in Scene 05 but hands never rise. Walks tall at the airport and eyes search faces for family. In Scene 10, his smile at the empty arrivals hall should be self-reassuring, not naive.
Relationships	Hareem — protector; Shahna — best friend and future fiancée; Gull Khan — trusted guardian (betrayer); Ali Ustad — oppressor.
AI prompt block	Pakistani young man, 17 years old, lean build, short black hair, expressive dark eyes, faded white school shirt and grey trousers, quiet dignified expression. (Return version: same man at 22, light stubble, navy jacket with small silver pilot-wings pin.)

4.2 Shahna Sultan — Best Friend and Future Fiancée

Role	Emotional anchor. Loyal friend, later pharmacy student, the person who mourns him.
Age	17 (main story) · 21 (return)
Look & costume	Oval face, kind brown eyes, long dark hair in a neat braid under a light dupatta. School uniform; later pastel shalwar kameez and white pharmacy lab coat.
Personality	Warm, witty, reliable, gently teasing; hides worry behind a smile. Faith-centred and calm in a crisis.
Want / need / flaw / fear	Want: a future with Bakhtawar. Need: to say what she feels directly. Flaw: puts duty (exam, family) before being present. Fear: being forgotten.
Voice direction	Clear, medium pitch, light and musical. Teasing lines are quick and bright. At the grave she speaks slowly, with broken breath and long pauses; no shouting.

Emotional arc	Caring, shy anxiety (03) → delighted and proud (06) → tearful hope (07) → devoted (08) → teasing, loving (09) → collapse (11) → despair and regret (12).
Acting direction	Holds a smile a half-second too long when she says “mujhe bhool to nahi jaoge?”. Presses her lips at the airport. At the grave she kneels, hands steady until the paper aeroplane — then they shake.
Relationships	Bakhtawar — love and trust; Hareem — protective older sister figure; Gull Khan — polite, unaware.
AI prompt block	Pakistani young woman, 17 years old, oval face, kind brown eyes, long dark braid under a light dupatta, school uniform. (Later: 21, pastel shalwar kameez or white pharmacy lab coat.)

4.3 Hareem — Bakhtawar’s Younger Sister

Role	The reason Bakhtawar fights. Innocent heart of the story.
Age	7 (prologue) · 11–12 (main story) · 16 (after China)
Look & costume	Round face, two braids, large expressive eyes. School uniform with white scarf; at 16 a simple salwar kameez with a hair clip.
Personality	Affectionate, playful, brave in a childlike way, clings to her brother.
Want / need / flaw / fear	Want: her brother at home. Need: safety and truth about her uncle. Flaw: trusts adults completely. Fear: being left alone like when Mother left.
Voice direction	High, bright, quick. Plays with pitch when teasing. When pleading, softer and slower, voice cracks on “yahin parh lein”.
Emotional arc	Clingy and scared (01) → playful, then pleading (04) → tearful but proud (07) → growing, hopeful (08) → grief and confusion (11).
Acting direction	Holds the sleeve of whoever she is next to. At the airport she tries not to cry until Bakhtawar turns away. At the funeral she clutches her paper aeroplane.
Relationships	Bakhtawar — hero; Shahna — big sister figure; Gull Khan — guardian she trusts.
AI prompt block	Pakistani girl, 11 years old, round face, two braids, large expressive eyes, school uniform with white scarf. (Later: same girl at 16.)

4.4 Gull Khan — Antagonist (the Uncle)

Role	The smiling villain: guardian, planner, killer.
Age	Late 40s
Look & costume	Medium build, greying trimmed beard, white shalwar kameez with brown waistcoat, prayer cap, prayer beads. Warm smile, cold eyes.
Personality	Greedy, patient, envious, controlled. Plays the kind uncle perfectly in public.
Want / need / flaw / fear	Want: full ownership of the house. Need: to be respected (he envies Bakhtawar’s future). Flaw: jealousy; he cannot bear to see his nephew succeed. Fear: losing the house if Bakhtawar claims his share.
Voice direction	Soft, melodic, slow (about 110 words per minute) in public; “beta” held half a beat too long. In private it goes flat, cold and quiet. Never raises his voice.

Emotional arc	Falsely tender (01–02) → hollow sympathy (06) → fake pride (07) → calculating (08) → composed, cold (10) → performed grief (11).
Acting direction	Smile does not reach the eyes. Static framing, he rarely moves. His eyes flick to the property file when Bakhtawar speaks of leaving. At the funeral his tears are too tidy.
Relationships	Bakhtawar and Hareem — wards he resents; Haleema — partner in crime.
AI prompt block	Pakistani man, late 40s, medium build, trimmed greying beard, white shalwar kameez with brown waistcoat, prayer cap, smiling mouth but cold eyes.

4.5 Haleema — Gull Khan's Wife

Role	The pusher. Her resentment sets the plot moving.
Age	Early 40s
Look & costume	Sharp features, dark shalwar kameez, maroon dupatta, hair tightly pinned. Arms often folded.
Personality	Bitter, impatient, quick to scheme, openly envious of Bakhtawar's success.
Want / need / flaw / fear	Want: the children gone, the house theirs. Flaw: envy. Fear: Bakhtawar returning educated and strong enough to claim his rights.
Voice direction	Sharp, low whisper, fast (about 150 words per minute), hard consonants. Sarcasm in "bade hoshiyar hain aap".
Emotional arc	Resentful (02) → envious, venomous (08) → cold satisfaction (11).
Acting direction	Never looks at the person she speaks about. Stirs or chops aggressively. At the funeral her eyes stay dry and fixed.
Relationships	Gull Khan — co-conspirator.
AI prompt block	Pakistani woman, early 40s, sharp features, dark shalwar kameez with maroon dupatta, hair tightly pinned, arms folded.

4.6 Ali Ustad — Shop Owner

Role	The oppressor who triggers Bakhtawar's decision to leave.
Age	Mid-50s
Look & costume	Heavy build, thick moustache, sweat-stained vest, checked lungi, stained apron.
Personality	Short-tempered, domineering, enjoys humiliating those he thinks are weaker.
Voice direction	Loud, gruff, low pitch, harsh. Sentences end in a bark. Gets louder when an audience is watching.
Emotional arc	Irritated → enraged → smug (05).
Acting direction	Plays to the customers. Raises his hand slowly, as if making a show of it.
AI prompt block	Pakistani man, mid-50s, heavy build, thick moustache, sweat-stained vest, checked lungi, stained apron.

4.7 The Narrator (Voice-over)

Role	Storyteller. Establishes the world, bridges time jumps, delivers the tragedy.

Voice	Mature male, 40s, warm and slightly husky. Urdu storytelling (dastan-go) cadence.
Pace and tone	105–115 words per minute. One-second pause at each full stop. Two-second pause before “aakhri Allah Hafiz”. Never melodramatic: let the facts carry the weight. Drop pitch on tragic lines.

4.8 Minor Characters

Shahna’s mother	Early 40s, kind, formal. Visits Gull Khan with sweets for the engagement (Scene 08). Soft voice, polite smile.
Hired men (two)	Silhouettes only, far in the background on a motorbike. No faces, no dialogue (Scene 10).
Bystanders / crowd	Ordinary people at the airport and funeral. One older man speaks the line “itna shareef larka…” (Scene 11).
Customers in shop	Frozen witnesses; no dialogue; faces show discomfort, nobody intervenes (Scene 05).

5. Emotion Map

Dominant emotion of each character in each scene. "—" means not present.

Scene 01 — Karachi ki Subah (Prologue)

Location	Karachi rooftops → family gate → grocery shop → Gull Khan's house → neighbour's window	Time / age	Dawn / flashback (Bakhtawar 10, Hareem 7)
Characters	Narrator (VO), Bakhtawar (10), Hareem (7), mother (silhouette), Gull Khan, Shahna (glimpse)	Duration	0:50
Mood / emotion	Nostalgic, quietly sad; builds empathy	Light & colour	Soft golden dawn. Flashbacks warm, slightly desaturated, light film grain (memory look)
BGM	Solo bansuri (flute), slow and sparse, low volume; enters at 0:03	Key SFX	Faint azan fading, crows, city hum, shop shutter, rickshaw leaving

Scene synopsis

The narrator introduces Karachi and the boy at the centre of the story. In flashback we learn how Bakhtawar lost his father, was left by his mother, and was sent to work in a grocery shop at ten while holding on to one dream — to become a pilot. We meet his sister Hareem, his uncle Gull Khan, and the neighbour Shahna.

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	EWS · High angle (drone style) Slow push-in · 24mm	Dawn over Karachi rooftops: water tanks, washing lines, one passenger plane crossing the orange sky.	SFX: azan fades in/out, crows. BGM: flute begins. VO-01 starts.
2	MS from behind · Low angle Slow dolly-out · 35mm	Two small children (Bakhtawar 10, Hareem 7) hold hands at the gate as a rickshaw carries their mother and a man away. Neither waves.	SFX: rickshaw fades. BGM: drops to one held note. VO-01: father's death, mother remarries.
3	MS · Eye level Handheld (light) · 35mm	Bakhtawar (10) drags a heavy flour sack across a dusty shop floor and stands on a crate to reach a shelf; his eyes drift to the window.	SFX: sack scrape, shutter clatter. VO-01: "das saal ki umar mein…".
4	CU · Eye level → rack focus Static · 85mm	A small paper aeroplane sits next to the weighing scale. Rack focus to the boy's face as he looks up at a real plane through the window.	VO-01: pilot dream, Hareem. BGM swells slightly.
5	MS two-shot · Low angle Static · 35mm	Gull Khan rests a hand on each child's head; his eyes are on the house nameplate "Khan Manzil". Smile fixed.	VO-01: Gull Khan, greedy, shows love only outwardly.
6	MCU · Eye level Static · 50mm	Across a narrow gap between rooftops, Shahna (10) waves from her window; Bakhtawar waves back.	VO-01: "…Shahna Sultan… sachi dost". BGM: bright flute notes.
7	Title card Static	Black screen; title "AAKHRI ALLAH HAFIZ" in white serif, fades in over a single held flute note.	BGM holds, then fades out. Silence 1 s.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Narrator (VO-01)	Ye kahani ek naujawan ki hai jo Karachi mein rehta tha. Naam	Calm, warm, nostalgic. 105 wpm. Slight tha Bakhtawar Khan. Bakhtawar ek shareef aur mehnati larka tha. Kam umri mein hi walid ka saya sir se uth gaya. Walida ne doosri shaadi kar li aur apne doosre shohar ke saath zyada waqt guzarne lagi. Das saal ki umar mein hi Bakhtawar ko karyana ki dukaan par laga diya gaya.	pause after “saya sir se uth gaya”. Slightly lower pitch on “walida ne…”.

Narrator (VO-01)	Bakhtawar bohat zaheen tha. Use bachpan se hi pilot banne ka shauq tha. Uski ek chhoti behan thi, Hareem. Dono bhai behan chacha Gull Khan ke saath rehte the; ye ghar unke walid aur chacha ko wirasat mein mila tha. Gull Khan ek lalchi insaan tha — wo ghar ki wajah se unhein paal raha tha aur zahir mein muhabbat jatata tha. Unke paros mein ek larki rehti thi, Shahna Sultan, jo Bakhtawar ki bohat achhi aur sachi dost thi.	Brightens slightly on “pilot banne ka shauq”. Slightly sharper, cooler on “lalchi insaan”. Warm again on “sachi dost”.

Performance & emotion direction

- Child Bakhtawar: serious beyond his age; no tears, just a fixed gaze at the sky.
- Child Hareem: grips her brother’s hand tighter as the rickshaw leaves.
- Gull Khan: stillness; the smile should be unsettling only on the second viewing.
- Mother: a silhouette only; never show her face so the audience fills in her absence.

Scene 02 — Subah ka Nashta — Gull Khan ka Ghar

Location	Gull Khan's house: lane exterior, Bakhtawar's bedroom, stairs, kitchen	Time / age	Morning, present day (Bakhtawar 17)
Characters	Bakhtawar, Gull Khan, Haleema	Duration	1:10
Mood / emotion	Quiet hurt on the surface; menace underneath	Light & colour	Cool window light in the bedroom; warm bulb in kitchen; kitchen talk half in shadow
BGM	Light sad flute continues; low cello drone enters when Haleema speaks	Key SFX	Crows, pressure-cooker whistle, pans, wall-clock tick, footsteps on stairs

Scene synopsis

Gull Khan wakes Bakhtawar with warm words, and Bakhtawar asks, hurt, why his mother did not come. Downstairs, Haleema pushes to get rid of the children, and Gull Khan reveals that his kindness lasts only until Bakhtawar turns eighteen and can claim his share.

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	WS · Low angle Static · 24mm	Narrow lane; two-storey house with peeling paint and a nameplate "Khan Manzil". Laundry line, crows, morning light.	SFX: crows, distant traffic.
2	MS · Eye level Static · 35mm	Bakhtawar half-asleep in a narrow bed; Hareem's school bag on a chair. Gull Khan stands in the doorway with a warm smile.	Dialogue lines 1–3.
3	CU · Eye level Static · 85mm	Bakhtawar sits up, jaw tight at "Ammi kal bhi nahi aayin na?"; eyes wet, no tear falls.	Dialogue lines 2–4. BGM: flute softens.
4	MS two-shot Slow push-in · 35mm	Gull Khan sits on the edge of the bed and pats Bakhtawar's shoulder; Bakhtawar looks away.	Dialogue lines 5–6.
5	Frame-within-frame (high) Static · 28mm	From the top of the stairs: Bakhtawar descends to wash; the kitchen door below is slightly ajar, light spilling out.	SFX: footsteps, tap water.
6	MS through doorway Shallow DOF · 50mm	Haleema sharp in foreground, Gull Khan soft in background; hushed conversation, a ladle in her hand.	Dialogue lines 7–11. BGM: cello drone.
7	CU · Slight low angle Slow push-in · 85mm	Gull Khan's smile fades as he says "jaan se bhi aziz hoon". Hold two seconds on his eyes.	BGM: drone swells. Cut on exhale.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Gull Khan	Bakhtawar beta, uth jao! Time ho gaya hai, school nahi jana?	Bright and warm; ends with a little rising lilt.
Bakhtawar	Uth raha hoon, chachu… Ammi kal bhi nahi aayin na?	Sleepy, then slight edge. Swallows on "Ammi".
Gull Khan	Beta, kal tumhari Ammi kaafi masroof thin. Unhon ne mujhe phone par bataya tha.	Soothing, rehearsed; "beta" held a half-beat too long.
Bakhtawar	Rehne dein chachu, main sab jaanta hoon. Kabhi kabhi lagta	Quiet, hurt, cracking on "beta hi nahi

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
	hai main unka beta hi nahi hoon. Mujhe koi shauq nahi ke woh aayein, lekin Hareem zid kar rahi thi milne ki, isliye poochha.	hoon". The last line is face-saving and rushed.
Gull Khan	Beta, gussa chhor do. Neeche aao, tumhari chachi ne tumhara pasandeeda nashta banaya hai.	Gentle, coaxing.
Bakhtawar	Aaya, chachu.	Soft, defeated.
Haleema	Hum in dono bhai behan ki khidmat kab tak karte rahenge? Makaan inke naam karwa kar inhein nikaalo bahar!	Hissed whisper, bitter. Hard on "khidmat".
Gull Khan	Ye mere marhoom bhai ki aulaad hain. Jab tak Bakhtawar athaara saal ka nahi ho jata, tab tak to karna hi parega… warna mujhe inse kya hamdardi.	Flat, matter-of-fact, no warmth at all.
Haleema	Aur agar ye samajhdaar hokar apna hissa maangne laga to?	Quick, sharp, worried.
Gull Khan	Tum fikar na karo, begum. Main usey jaan se bhi aziz hoon. Jaisa main kahunga, waisa hi karega — mana nahi karta.	Low, confident; slight smirk on "jaan se bhi aziz".
Haleema	Bade hoshiyar hain aap!	Dry, admiring, sarcastic.

Performance & emotion direction

- Bakhtawar: do not play angry; play hurt and embarrassed that he cares.
- Gull Khan: two faces — bedroom warm, kitchen cold. The switch happens the moment he is out of Bakhtawar's sight.
- Haleema: never looks at the subject of her words; keeps her hands busy.
- Camera rule: the kitchen scene is shot as if the audience is eavesdropping.

Scene 03 — School — Dosti aur Fikar

Location	Government school courtyard, bench under a neem tree	Time / age	Late morning, recess
Characters	Bakhtawar, Shahna	Duration	0:45
Mood / emotion	Tender, wistful; hope with worry underneath	Light & colour	Dappled sunlight through neem leaves; warm and high-key
BGM	Gentle acoustic guitar and flute duet at low level; stops at the bell	Key SFX	School chatter fading, birds, wind, school bell

Scene synopsis

Shahna notices Bakhtawar's sadness. He confides that he fears for Hareem if he goes abroad for pilot training. Shahna promises to look after her and asks if he will forget her. The bell rings and they part.

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	WS · High angle Static · 24mm	Schoolyard in uniform; a neem tree; Bakhtawar sits alone on a bench sketching aeroplanes in a notebook.	SFX: chatter fades under the BGM.
2	MS · Eye level Lateral tracking · 35mm	Shahna crosses the courtyard, sits beside him; the camera glides alongside.	Dialogue line 1.
3	OTS / reverse (dialogue) Static · 50mm	Over Shahna to Bakhtawar (worry), over Bakhtawar to Shahna (reassurance).	Dialogue lines 2–5.
4	CU · Eye level Shallow DOF · 85mm	Shahna asks "mujhe bhool to nahi jaoge?" with a smile that hides anxiety; children blurred behind.	Dialogue lines 6–7. BGM thins.
5	INSERT · School bell Static · 100mm	A brass bell swings; dust shakes off.	SFX: bell. BGM stops.
6	WS · Eye level Static · 35mm	They walk to different classrooms; the camera holds on the empty bench as neem leaves fall.	SFX: wind, distant chatter.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Shahna	Bakhtawar, aaj tum phir udaas ho.	Observant, gentle.
Bakhtawar	Yaar, Hareem ke liye fikarmand hoon. Main pilot ki parhai ke liye bahar chala gaya to Hareem ka khayal kaun rakhega?	Worried, thinking aloud; slight drop in pitch at "kaun rakhega".
Shahna	Arey, fikar na karo. Allah pak hain na, woh sab behtar karenge. Aur main to hoon na — main rakhungi uska khayal.	Reassuring, bright; "main rakhungi" firm.
Bakhtawar	Tumhara shukriya… Allah par to bohat bharosa hai, bas bhai hoon na, isliye tension hoti hai.	Warm, grateful, slightly embarrassed.
Shahna	Haan, ye to hai. (pause) Tum bahar mulk chale gaye to mujhe bhool to nahi jaoge?	First line breezy; pause; second line small, almost shy.
Bakhtawar	Arey, tum hi to meri ek achhi dost ho. Tumhein main kabhi nahi bhoolunga. Bas mere liye dua karna.	Sincere, quick, smiling; eyes held on hers a beat too long.

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Shahna	Meri duayein tumhare saath hain. Allah tumhein kamyaab kare.	Soft, heartfelt.

Performance & emotion direction

- Shahna's concern is shown through small gestures: leans in, straightens his collar, smiles to lighten the mood.
- Bakhtawar's hands hold the notebook tight when he mentions Hareem.
- No romance spoken — only implied through held looks.

Scene 04 — Ghar ka Raasta — Hareem aur Bhai

Location	Narrow Karachi lane, house gate	Time / age	Afternoon (about 2:30 pm)
Characters	Bakhtawar, Hareem	Duration	0:40
Mood / emotion	Warm and playful, turning bittersweet	Light & colour	Strong afternoon sun; long shadows; golden warmth
BGM	Light playful flute and tabla pattern; becomes soft and sad at “aap ki yaad aayegi”	Key SFX	Street vendors, bicycle bell, footsteps, distant azan

Scene synopsis

Brother and sister walk home. Hareem teases, then pleads with him not to go abroad. Bakhtawar explains his dream is for both of them, folds her a paper aeroplane, eats lunch, and rushes to the shop — ten minutes late.

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	Low angle at foot level Tracking · 24mm	Two pairs of school shoes walking along a dusty lane; tilt up to their faces.	SFX: footsteps, vendors.
2	MS two-shot Handheld walking · 35mm	Playful banter; Hareem skips ahead, turns, walks backwards in front of him.	Dialogue lines 1–4.
3	CU · Eye level Static · 85mm	Hareem pleads, big eyes, brave smile.	Dialogue lines 5–7.
4	MCU · Eye level Static · 50mm	Bakhtawar kneels to her height; folds a notebook page into a paper aeroplane and hands it over (INSERT on hands).	Dialogue line 8. BGM softens.
5	WS · Eye level Static · 35mm	Hareem stands at the gate holding the aeroplane as he jogs off toward the shop.	SFX: footsteps fade.
6	INSERT · Wristwatch Static · 100mm	The watch reads 3:10 as he runs; smash cut to the shop.	SFX: ticking, growing louder.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Hareem	Bhai, aap mujhse kitna pyar karte hain?	Teasing, bright.
Bakhtawar	Arey, churailon se kaun pyar karta hai!	Laughing, teasing back.
Hareem	Bhai, yaar… kya hai!	Pouting, playful.
Bakhtawar	Arey behan, meri to jaan bhi qurban hai tum par.	Warm, tender; stops laughing.
Hareem	Bhai, aap bahar na jayein na… yahin parh lein.	Soft, pleading; voice cracks slightly.
Bakhtawar	Mera bahar jana bohat zaroori hai. Main sirf apne khwab poore nahi karna chahta, apni behan ko woh sab kuch dena chahta hoon jiski usay khwahish hai.	Firm but gentle; determined; eyes on her.
Hareem	Bhai, mere liye to aap ka hona hi bohat hai. Aap ki mujhe bohat yaad aayegi.	Small, sincere; fighting tears.

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Bakhtawar	Itni pyari baatein karti ho… bas mere liye dua karna.	Choked, affectionate; half a laugh.

Performance & emotion direction

- Keep the first half genuinely funny so the second half stings.
- Bakhtawar never rushes the goodbye; only the final run to the shop is hurried.
- The paper aeroplane is folded in one clean take; the craft shows he has done it hundreds of times.

Scene 05 — Karyana ki Dukaan — Beizzati

Location	Ali Ustad's grocery shop, Karachi	Time / age	Afternoon (3:10 pm)
Characters	Bakhtawar, Ali Ustad, customers (extras)	Duration	0:50
Mood / emotion	Tension, humiliation, then quiet resolve	Light & colour	Harsh midday glare through a half-shutter; dusty light beams; high contrast; Ali Ustad lit from above
BGM	Tense low percussion and ticking pulse; silence at the slap; single low cello when he removes the apron	Key SFX	Fan squeak, scale clink, off-screen slap, customers' gasp, muffled street

Scene synopsis

Bakhtawar arrives ten minutes late and says he was unwell. Ali Ustad shouts at him and slaps him in front of customers. After years of mistreatment, Bakhtawar decides to leave with dignity.

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	WS · Eye level Static · 24mm	Shop exterior in glare; sacks of rice and flour; a faded signboard.	SFX: street noise.
2	MS · Low angle Static · 28mm	Ali Ustad behind the counter, large and shadowed.	Dialogue line 1.
3	MS · High angle Handheld · 35mm	Bakhtawar hurries in, shoulders hunched; he looks small.	Dialogue lines 2–3.
4	CU · Eye level Handheld · 85mm	Ali Ustad's mouth and eyes while he shouts; sweat on his forehead.	Dialogue line 3. BGM: rising pulse.
5	WS · Side-on Static · 35mm	Customers frozen. Ustad's hand rises — cut to black for half a second.	SFX: slap (off-screen). BGM: silence.
6	CU · Eye level Slow push-in · 85mm	Bakhtawar's cheek is red, eyes wet, jaw clenched. Hold three seconds.	SFX: only the fan. VO-02 begins.
7	INSERT · Hands Slow motion (48fps) · 100mm	Hands untie the apron and place it neatly on the counter.	BGM: single low cello. VO-02 continues.
8	WS · Eye level Rack focus · 35mm	Bakhtawar walks into the bright street; Ustad blurs behind him.	VO-02 ends. BGM resolves.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Ali Ustad	O nikamme! Idhar aao! Kahan ghoom rahe ho?	Barking, loud, theatrical.
Bakhtawar	Ustad ji, khana kha raha tha, isliye der ho gayi. Aaj tabiyat bhi theek nahi lag rahi.	Respectful, tired, low volume; avoids eye contact.
Ali Ustad	Bas, tujh se bahane banwa lo! Mahine ka paisa leta hai, phir bhi dhang se kaam nahi karta. Idhar aa, main teri tabiyat theek karta hoon!	Mocking, escalating to a shout; savours the audience.

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Narrator (VO-02)	Ali Ustad ne sab ke saamne Bakhtawar ko thappar maara. Wo shuru se hi Bakhtawar ke saath bewajah bura salook karta tha, lekin Bakhtawar bardasht kar leta tha. Aaj ye baat uske dil par lag gayi — sab ke saamne thappar, aur itne saal saath kaam karne ka lihaaz bhi nahi kiya gaya. Bakhtawar ne dukaan chhorne ka faisla kar liya.	Slow, sombre, 100 wpm. Pause after “dil par lag gayi”. Firmer on the last sentence.

Performance & emotion direction

- Do not show the slap; show only the raised hand, the sound, and the faces of those who watch.
- Bakhtawar’s dignity is the point: no crying out loud, no pleading.
- Customers look away; their silence is part of the humiliation.

Scene 06 — Faisla aur Khushkhabri

Location	Gull Khan's living room (evening) → shared rooftop (dusk, four months later)	Time / age	Evening, then dusk four months later
Characters	Bakhtawar, Gull Khan, Shahna, Narrator	Duration	0:50
Mood / emotion	Misplaced trust, then joy	Light & colour	Living room: low-key tungsten. Rooftop: golden hour, warm rim light
BGM	Soft emotional strings; rooftop switches to bright flute and light guitar	Key SFX	TV murmur, dusk birds, distant azan, kite strings, paper rustle

Scene synopsis

Bakhtawar tells his uncle he has quit; Gull Khan offers hollow comfort while eyeing a property file. Four months later, Bakhtawar receives the China scholarship and runs to tell Shahna first. He folds a paper aeroplane as her "first ticket".

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	MS two-shot Static · 35mm	Living room: Bakhtawar stands, Gull Khan sits; a TV flickers.	Dialogue lines 1–2.
2	CU · Slight low angle Static · 85mm	Gull Khan gives his dilasa; his eyes flick to a property folder on the shelf (INSERT 1 s).	VO-03 begins.
3	INSERT · Laptop screen Static · 50mm	Email: "Congratulations — Scholarship Offer". Super: "Four months later".	SFX: soft chime. VO-03 ends.
4	WS · Eye level Following · 24mm	Two adjoining rooftops separated by a low wall; Bakhtawar sprints up the stairs, letter in hand.	SFX: running feet.
5	OTS two-shot Handheld · 50mm	He tells her; she claps and teases.	Dialogue lines 3–6.
6	INSERT · Hands Static · 100mm	He folds a notebook page into a paper aeroplane and hands it to her.	Dialogue line 7.
7	MCU · Eye level Static · 85mm	Shahna smiling with the aeroplane; sun behind; gentle lens flare.	BGM peaks.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Bakhtawar	Chachu, main ab Ali Ustad ki dukaan par kaam nahi karunga.	Steady, calm, hiding the hurt.
Gull Khan	Beta, dil chhota na karo. Jo hua, bhool jao. Allah behtar karega.	Soft, falsely kind; glance at the folder on the last line.
Bakhtawar	Shahna, mera selection ho gaya hai! Wo bhi scholarship par!	Out of breath, joyful, shaky voice.
Shahna	Arey wah, mubarak ho! Ab to mithai banti hai is baat par.	Bright, delighted, claps.
Bakhtawar	Haan haan, zaroor kyun nahi! Bas ye aap sab logon ki duayein hain.	Grateful, humble, smiling.
Shahna	Ab tumne khoob mehnat karni hai, phir pilot banna hai… aur	Teasing; last words a little shy.

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
	jahaz mein mujhe lekar jana hai! (hanste hue)
Bakhtawar	Haan kyun nahi, zaroor, zaroor! Ye lo — teri pehli ticket.	Laughing, then sincere on “pehli ticket”.
Narrator (VO-03)	Bakhtawar dil-shikasta ho kar ghar aaya aur ye baat chacha ko bataayi. Wo chacha ko mukhlis samajhta tha, lekin yehi uski sabse badi ghalti thi. Chacha ne bhi afsos jataya, usey dilasa diya, aur zyada kuch nahi kaha. Bakhtawar ne China ke ek institute mein scholarship ke liye apply kiya tha, aur khush-qismati se chaar mahine baad usey jaane ki offer aayi aur scholarship bhi mil gayi.	Reflective, with a faint warning in the tone on “sabse badi ghalti”. Lifts on the last sentence for hope.

Performance & emotion direction

- Gull Khan: no visible reaction to “Ali Ustad” — his only reaction is the glance at the folder.
- Bakhtawar: pure joy for the first time in the film; allow him to laugh with his whole face.
- The paper aeroplane is the emotional centrepiece; hold it in frame long enough to register.

Scene 07 — Airport — Rukhsati

Location	Jinnah International Airport, departures hall	Time / age	Early morning
Characters	Bakhtawar, Hareem, Shahna, Gull Khan, Narrator	Duration	0:40
Mood / emotion	Bittersweet farewell; pride and tears	Light & colour	Cool blue pre-dawn through glass with warm interior lights; soft backlight
BGM	Emotional piano and strings, slow build; flute joins as he walks to the gate	Key SFX	Muffled airport PA, trolley wheels, suitcase zip, boarding call, footsteps

Scene synopsis

Family gathers at the airport to see Bakhtawar off. Hareem and Shahna try to be strong, Gull Khan performs pride. Bakhtawar asks them to look after Hareem, then walks to the gate with courage.

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	WS · Eye level Static · 24mm	Departures hall; the four of them arrive with a trolley and one suitcase.	VO-04 (part 1) begins.
2	MS group (4 in frame) Slow dolly-in · 35mm	They stand close; Bakhtawar hugs Hareem.	Dialogue lines 1–2.
3	CU · Eye level Static · 85mm	Hareem's eyes fill with tears.	Dialogue line 1.
4	CU · Eye level Static · 85mm	Shahna presses her lips together, holding the paper aeroplane close.	Dialogue lines 2, 5.
5	CU · Slight low angle Static · 85mm	Gull Khan's smile is a little too wide; hand pats Bakhtawar's back.	Dialogue line 3.
6	OTS following Steadicam · 50mm	We follow Bakhtawar toward the gate; focus pulls from him to the blurred family behind.	VO-04 (part 2). BGM: flute joins.
7	WS through glass Static · 35mm	He turns and waves; they wave back; reflections ripple on the glass.	SFX: boarding call. BGM peaks, then dips.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Hareem	Bhai, khoob mehnat karna. Main aap ka intezar karungi.	Trembling but bright; forced smile.
Shahna	Hamein yaad rakhna, bhoolna mat.	Soft, with a catch in the throat.
Gull Khan	Beta, pilot ban kar aana, mera naam roshan karna.	Over-warm, showy, a touch too loud.
Bakhtawar	Haan zaroor. Bas chachu aur Shahna, meri Hareem ka bohat khayal rakhna.	Earnest, emotional; breath catches on "Hareem".
Shahna	Tum iski tension mat lo, hum hain na.	Steady, comforting.
Narrator (VO-04)	Ab wo waqt aa gaya tha jab Bakhtawar ko apni taleem ke liye China rawana hona tha. Is waqt ke liye usne bohat mehnat ki thi, bohat takleef uthayi thi, logon ki baatein suni thi, lekin haar nahi maani. Usne hamesha khud par bharosa kiya.	Proud, tender, measured. Slow down on "lekin haar nahi maani". Slight smile in the voice on "himmat ki".

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
	Airport par usey chacha, Hareem aur Shahna chhorne aaye. (After the dialogue:) Bakhtawar jab jahaz ki taraf barhne laga to Shahna aur Hareem ki aankhon mein aansoo the. Bakhtawar bhi unhein dekh kar jazbaati ho gaya, lekin usne himmat ki, qadam barhaye, aur manzil-e-maqsood ki taraf rawana ho gaya.

Performance & emotion direction

- Hareem: tears fall only after Bakhtawar has turned away.
- Shahna: keeps her hands still, only the paper aeroplane trembles.
- Bakhtawar: do not look back until the very last step; then one wave, no more.

Scene 08 — Chaar Saal — China, Karachi aur Saazish

Location	China: campus, library, flight simulator. Karachi: pharmacy lab, doorstep, Gull Khan's dining room at night	Time / age	Four years (montage) + night scene
Characters	Bakhtawar (18→22), Shahna, Hareem (12→16), Gull Khan, Haleema, Shahna's mother, Narrator	Duration	1:00
Mood / emotion	Determination and progress with an ominous undertone	Light & colour	China: cool blue-white daylight. Karachi night: warm lamp, deep shadows
BGM	Inspirational flute and strings, rhythmic build; at the night scene, bass drone and sparse piano; crossfade	Key SFX	Keyboard, pencil scratch, simulator hum, applause, distant thunder, clock tick

Scene synopsis

A montage of Bakhtawar's study and training intercuts with Shahna studying pharmacy and caring for Hareem. Shahna's family formally proposes the engagement. That night, Haleema and Gull Khan plan against Bakhtawar's return, and Gull Khan tells Hareem the wrong date.

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	EWS · High angle Slow push-in · 24mm	Snowy campus at morning; Bakhtawar crosses the quad in a scarf.	VO-05 begins.
2	MCU · Eye level Time-lapse · 50mm	Library at night: Bakhtawar writing under a desk lamp; cups of tea accumulate.	SFX: pencil scratch.
3	MS · Eye level Static · 35mm	Flight simulator: Bakhtawar in a headset, focused, instruments glowing.	SFX: simulator hum.
4	MS · Eye level Static · 35mm	Bakhtawar shakes hands, networking; INSERT of his certificate.	SFX: applause.
5	Match cut · Eye level Static · 50mm	Karachi: Shahna in a lab coat writing, cut to her helping Hareem's homework in the same pose.	VO-05 continues.
6	MS two-shot Static · 35mm	Doorstep: Shahna's mother offers sweets to Gull Khan; his grin is too wide; INSERT of his tightening hand on the box.	Dialogue lines 1–2.
7	MS two-shot · Low-key Slow push-in · 50mm	Night: Haleema and Gull Khan at the dining table; property papers under the lamp.	Dialogue lines 3–5. BGM: bass drone.
8	MS · Eye level Static · 35mm	Next morning: Gull Khan, all smiles, tells Hareem the wrong date; she lights up.	Dialogue lines 6–7.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Shahna's mother	Gull Khan bhai sahab, hum Shahna aur Bakhtawar ki mangni ka rishta le kar aaye hain.	Polite, formal, warm.
Gull Khan	Bohat khushi ki baat hai! Zaroor, zaroor.	Over-friendly; smile too wide.
Haleema	Wo wapas aa raha hai. Ab parha likha, kamyab, aur bara ho	Whispered, venomous, fast.

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
	gaya hai. Ab wo apna hissa maangega.
Gull Khan	Uska aana hamare liye theek nahi. Tum fikar na karo, begum. Main sab sambhaal lunga.	Cold, quiet, no emotion.
Haleema	Mujhe aap par yaqeen hai.	Thin, satisfied smile.
Gull Khan (to Hareem)	Hareem beta, tumhare bhai ki flight parson shaam ki hai. Tab chalenge lene.	Back to the warm mask; light and casual.
Hareem	Sach chachu? Main unke liye card khud banaungi!	Excited, eager, high-pitched.
Narrator (VO-05)	China pohanch kar Bakhtawar ne beinteha mehnat ki. Usne logon se rabta banaya, har wo hunar seekha jo ek pilot ke liye zaroori hota hai, taleem mukammal ki, phir ek aur institute se higher education bhi poori ki. Doosri taraf Shahna ne pharmacy ki parhai ki aur Hareem ka bhi poora khayal rakha. Bakhtawar aur Shahna achhe dost the, aur ek doosre ke achhe bure waqt mein saath rahe. Lekin ek insaan khush nahi tha — Bakhtawar ki chachi, Haleema. Bakhtawar ki kamyabi use hazam na hui, aur usne apne shohar ke saath mil kar ek khaufnaak saazish rachi. Chaar saal ki anthak mehnat ke baad Bakhtawar wapas aane laga.	Brisk and inspiring through the montage (115 wpm), then slows and cools at “Lekin ek insaan khush nahi tha”. Hold the pause before “khaufnaak saazish”.

Performance & emotion direction

- Montage shots should show growth of competence: tired but sharper each year.
- Gull Khan’s hand tightening on the sweet box shows his true reaction.
- Haleema leans over the papers, Gull Khan never touches them — she is more openly greedy.

Scene 09 — Aakhri Call

Location	Airport transit lounge; boarding gate; on-screen: Shahna in a library corridor	Time / age	Afternoon, flight day
Characters	Bakhtawar, Shahna (video call), Narrator	Duration	0:35
Mood / emotion	Playful warmth and happy anticipation (dramatic irony)	Light & colour	Warm window sun in the lounge; cool tube light in Shahna's corridor
BGM	Light romantic acoustic guitar with flute; final chord held when the call ends	Key SFX	Lounge PA, video-call connect tone, boarding call, call-end beep

Scene synopsis

On a layover, Bakhtawar video-calls Shahna and teases her about the engagement. She explains that she cannot meet him at the airport because of her last exam. They say "Allah Hafiz", the last words they will speak.

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	WS · Eye level Static · 24mm	Lounge window: a plane at the gate; Bakhtawar in silhouette, pilot-wings pin on his collar.	SFX: lounge ambience.
2	OTS phone screen Handheld · 50mm	He raises his phone; Shahna appears on screen in a library corridor.	SFX: connect tone. Dialogue lines 1–2.
3	CU · Eye level Static · 85mm	Bakhtawar smiles and teases.	Dialogue lines 3, 5.
4	CU (phone screen) Static	Shahna's taunting smile; she looks down at her textbook.	Dialogue lines 2, 4, 6.
5	INSERT macro · Boarding pass and pilot pin Slow push-in · 100mm	Boarding pass reads "KHI"; the pin glints.	BGM: soft guitar.
6	CU (screen) Static	"Allah Hafiz". The call ends; the black screen holds her fading reflection.	SFX: call-end beep. VO-06.
7	WS · Eye level Static · 35mm	He walks toward the gate; his hand touches the aircraft door frame; he looks back once.	BGM: final chord held.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Bakhtawar	Shahna, mangni ki tayyariyan poori hain na phir?	Teasing, upbeat.
Shahna	Pehle aap aa to jayein.	Playful, quick.
Bakhtawar	Main to bas aa raha hoon, raaste mein hoon.	Excited, grinning.
Shahna	Bohat jaldi hai aapko! (taunt)	Mock-sarcastic, laughing.
Bakhtawar	Achha, mujhe airport par lene nahi aaogi? Aa jao yaar.	Coaxing, a hint of real wish.

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Shahna	Bataya to tha ke aakhri paper hai, warna zaroor aati na.	Apologetic, warm, a little embarrassed.
Bakhtawar	Haan, chalo theek hai. Phir milte hain. Allah Hafiz.	Soft, content, sincere. Do not hint at tragedy.
Narrator (VO-06)	Ye “Allah Hafiz” uska aakhri “Allah Hafiz” tha.	Quiet, slow. Two-second pause before “aakhri”. Pitch drops on the last word.

Performance & emotion direction

- This is the happiest scene: play it genuinely and lightly so the next scene hurts.
- Shahna glances at the camera when she says “aakhri paper”; a flicker of guilt the audience will later remember.
- Bakhtawar says the goodbye casually, like any ordinary day.

Scene 10 — Airport Arrival — Khaamoshi

Location	Karachi airport: arrival hall, exit pavement. Intercut: Gull Khan's house	Time / age	Sunset
Characters	Bakhtawar, Gull Khan, two hired men (silhouettes), crowd, Narrator	Duration	0:50
Mood / emotion	Hope, unease, shock, silence	Light & colour	Dramatic sunset orange; long shadows; lens flare
BGM	Low cello and heartbeat pulse; sudden silence at the event; one sad violin note after 3 s; ringing tone	Key SFX	Aircraft landing, trolleys, car horns, phone "switched off" message, a sudden cut to silence, crowd gasps, high-pitched ringing, ringtone (no gunshots)

Scene synopsis

Bakhtawar lands to find nobody waiting; his uncle's phone is switched off. Thinking everyone is busy, he walks into the sunset. Hired men planned by Gull Khan attack him outside the terminal. The film stays on a dropped suitcase, a ringing phone showing Shahna's name, and the sky. Violence is implied only through sound and aftermath.

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	EWS · Eye level Static · 24mm	An aircraft touches down against the sunset.	SFX: engine roar. VO-07 starts after 3 s.
2	MS following from behind Steadicam · 35mm	Bakhtawar scans the arrivals crowd with a hopeful smile, rising on his toes; other families embrace.	SFX: crowd, trolley wheels.
3	INSERT · Phone screen Static · 100mm	He dials Gull Khan: "The number you have dialled is switched off."	SFX: automated voice.
4	CU · Eye level Slow push-in · 85mm	Hope dims; he smiles at himself and tells himself everyone must be busy.	VO-07 (part 1).
5	MS (symmetrical) · Eye level Static · 50mm	Intercut: Gull Khan sits calmly at home, tea cooling; his phone buzzes; he listens in silence.	SFX: clock tick.
6	WS · Low angle Static · 24mm	Bakhtawar walks out of the terminal into orange light with his suitcase; two blurred figures on a motorbike far behind him.	BGM: cello pulse louder.
7	Black frame · 1 s —	Pure black screen.	SFX: hard cut to silence, then a faint high-pitched ringing. No gunshots. BGM cut to silence.
8	INSERT · Low angle Slow motion · 50mm	A suitcase wheel spins on the pavement; a pilot certificate slides out; crowd feet blur as they run.	SFX: ringing tone. VO-07 (part 2).
9	INSERT · Phone on pavement Rack focus · 85mm	Phone rings on the ground: "Shahna". Rack focus to the sunset sky as a plane crosses.	SFX: ringtone. BGM: single sad violin note.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Narrator (VO-07)	Bakhtawar ko airport par lene koi nahi aaya, aur chacha ka phone bhi band tha. Usne socha ke sab masroof honge. Lekin chacha ne poori planning kar rakhi thi. Wo ek hasid insaan tha, aur jaanta tha ke ab Bakhtawar kamyab ho gaya hai, wo us par apni marzi nahi chala sakega. Usne Bakhtawar ko qatl karwane ka mansooba bandh liya.	Calm and heavy. Slightly faster in the first half; pause, then slow and low on “qatl karwane”.
Narrator (VO-07, part 2)	Bakhtawar jaise hi airport se nikla, kuch logon ne goli maar kar use mauqe par hi shaheed kar diya.	Almost a whisper, very slow, one-second pause after “nikla”.

Performance & emotion direction

- Bakhtawar: smile at the empty arrivals should be self-reassuring, not naive; a flicker of unease at the phone message.
- Gull Khan: absolute stillness. No smirk, no tears. He drinks his tea and waits.
- No weapon, wound or blood is shown. The camera never looks at the act itself.
- The black frame lasts exactly one second: the audience should feel the absence.

Scene 11 — Sadma aur Tadfeen

Location	Airport pavement (crowd), hospital corridor, cemetery at dawn	Time / age	Night to early next morning
Characters	Shahna, Hareem, Gull Khan, Haleema, bystanders, Narrator	Duration	0:35
Mood / emotion	Shock, grief, hidden guilt	Light & colour	Hospital: cold green-white fluorescent. Cemetery: pale grey dawn. Gull Khan lit from the side, half face in shadow
BGM	Silence, then low sustained strings; the sad violin theme returns	Key SFX	Hospital monitor beep, trolley wheels, murmured prayers, shovel, wind

Scene synopsis

Bystanders cannot believe the news — Bakhtawar had no enemies. Shahna collapses on hearing and spends twelve hours in hospital; he is buried while she is unconscious. At the burial, Gull Khan performs grief while Haleema watches coldly.

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	MS · Eye level Handheld · 35mm	A huddle of bystanders; an older man shakes his head; murmured prayers.	Dialogue line 1. VO-08 begins.
2	MS · Eye level Handheld · 35mm	Hospital corridor: Shahna runs in, hears the news from a sobbing Hareem, collapses.	Dialogue line 2.
3	POV · Ceiling lights Slow spin · 24mm	The lights spin and fade to white.	SFX: ringing tone fades.
4	INSERT · Clock Dissolve · 50mm	A drip bag and a wall clock; the hands move quickly through twelve hours.	SFX: monitor beep.
5	WS · Eye level Static · 24mm	Cemetery at dawn: a small group in white; shovelfuls of earth; Gull Khan sobbing too neatly; tilt to Haleema's dry, fixed eyes.	BGM: low strings.
6	CU · Eye level Static · 85mm	Hareem sobbing, clutching her paper aeroplane.	SFX: wind, shovel.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Bystander (older man)	Itna shareef larka tha… kisi se koi dushmani bhi nahi thi.	Low, trembling, disbelief.
Hareem	Bhai… bhai kahan hain?!	Cracked, high, panicked, then a sob.
Narrator (VO-08)	Jab logon ko is saaneha ka pata chala to wo heran reh gaye — kyunki koi ye soch bhi nahi sakta tha ke Bakhtawar ko uske chacha ne qatl karwaya hai. Wo ek shareef larka tha, uski kisi se dushmani bhi nahi thi. Shahna sadme se behosh ho gayi aur baarah ghante hospital mein admit rahi. Uski behoshi mein hi Bakhtawar ki tadfeen ho gayi, aur usne Bakhtawar ko us haal mein dekha nahi. Shayad wo kabhi use us haal mein dekh hi na pati.	Very slow, soft, almost hushed. Pause before "Shayad". Warm compassion in the last sentence.

Performance & emotion direction

- Shahna: let the collapse happen on a movement, without melodrama. She does not scream.
- Gull Khan: his crying is performed: he looks to see who is watching.
- Haleema: expressionless, a small exhale of relief only the camera notices.

Scene 12 — Qabar par — Aakhri Manzar

Location	Cemetery, Karachi; fresh grave	Time / age	Dusk, next day
Characters	Shahna, Narrator	Duration	0:55
Mood / emotion	Grief, regret, hollow love	Light & colour	Overcast, desaturated blue-grey; low sun behind Shahna gives a soft rim light
BGM	Heavy emotional piano and sustained strings; flute theme returns once, broken; silence under the final line	Key SFX	Wind, distant aeroplane overhead, dry leaves, sobbing; final fade to silence

Scene synopsis

Shahna reaches the grave with flowers and the paper aeroplane. She speaks to Bakhtawar of what could have been. The film closes with an aircraft crossing the sky above her and a final line about greed.

Shot list

#	Camera (shot · angle · movement · lens)	Visual & action	Audio
1	EWS · High angle Slow crane-up · 24mm	Overcast cemetery; Shahna a small figure among rows of graves.	VO-08 (last part) begins.
2	MS following from behind Steadicam · 35mm	She walks slowly, holding flowers; the wind lifts her dupatta.	SFX: wind, footsteps.
3	CU · Low angle at ground Static · 50mm	Her knees touch the earth; she places the flowers.	BGM: piano enters.
4	OTS toward grave Static · 50mm	A wooden marker “Bakhtawar Khan”, fresh earth, her hands.	Dialogue line 1.
5	CU · Eye level Slow push-in · 85mm	Her face; tears fall; breath breaks.	Dialogue lines 1–2.
6	INSERT · Hands Static · 100mm	She stands the paper aeroplane upright on the mound; her hands shake.	BGM: flute theme, broken.
7	TOP-DOWN · Overhead Static · 24mm	Shahna curled beside the grave; a real aeroplane’s contrail slides across the frame.	SFX: distant aeroplane.
8	Fade to black —	Title card: final line in white serif.	VO-09. BGM: silence.

Dialogue & voice direction

Character	Line (Roman Urdu)	Delivery / emotion
Shahna	Kaash main paper chhor kar tumhein lene aa jaati… Kaash tum mujhe bhi apne saath le jaate.	Quiet, shaking, long pauses. Do not shout.
Shahna	Ab main kya karun? Main kaise rahungi?	Barely audible, tearful, whispered.
Narrator (VO-09)	Usne muhabbat dil se ki thi… lekin uske hisse mein muhabbat na aayi.	Slow, low, hushed. Two-second pause after “thi”. Last word dropped to a whisper.
End card (text)	Lalach aur hasad sirf ghar nahi, khwab aur zindagiyan bhi tabah kar dete hain.	On-screen text, white serif, held 4 seconds.

Performance & emotion direction

- Shahna's hands are steady until the paper aeroplane — then they shake. The aeroplane is the breaking point.
- Do not cut away from her face during line 1; let silence do the work.
- Final image: a real aeroplane passes above; the promise of flight continues without him.

7. Voice-Over Direction Sheet

Narrator specification

Voice type	Mature male, 40s, warm and slightly husky; Urdu dastan-go (storyteller) cadence.
Pace	105–115 words per minute. Montage in Scene 08 may rise to 115; tragic lines drop to about 95.
Pauses	One second at each full stop. Two seconds before “aakhri Allah Hafiz” and after “muhabbat dil se ki thi”.
Emotion rule	Understate. The narrator reports, he does not weep; the audience supplies the emotion.
Mic / recording	Quiet room, pop filter, 48 kHz 24-bit mono WAV, 10 seconds of room tone recorded. If AI voice is used, choose an Urdu male narrator, speed about 0.9, and review pronunciation of Urdu words.
Mix	VO peaks about −12 dB; music ducks 6–8 dB under VO; reverb: small room, very light.

VO cue table

VO	Scene	Opens with	Delivery	Music under
01	01	“Ye kahani ek naujawan ki hai…”	Warm, nostalgic, 105 wpm	Solo flute, low
02	05	“Ali Ustad ne sab ke saamne…”	Slow, sombre, 100 wpm	Silence then low cello
03	06	“Bakhtawar dil-shikasta ho kar…”	Reflective, warning on “badi ghalti”	Soft strings
04	07	“Ab wo waqt aa gaya tha…”	Proud, tender, measured	Piano and strings
05	08	“China pohanch kar Bakhtawar…”	Brisk then cool at Haleema	Inspirational flute → bass drone
06	09	“Ye ‘Allah Hafiz’ uska aakhri…”	Quiet; pause before “aakhri”	Guitar chord held
07	10	“Bakhtawar ko airport par lene…”	Calm, heavy; whisper on the last line	Cello pulse, then silence
08	11–12	“Jab logon ko is saaneha…”	Very slow, hushed, compassionate	Low strings
09	12	“Usne muhabbat dil se ki thi…”	Low, hushed; last word whispered	Silence

8. Music & Sound Design Cue Sheet

Cue	Scene	Music / instrument	Mood	Notes
M1	01	Solo bansuri (flute), slow, sparse	Nostalgic, quiet sadness	Establishes the main theme; enters at 0:03.
M2	02	Flute continues; low cello drone	Hidden menace	Drone enters on Haleema's first line.
M3	03	Acoustic guitar and flute duet	Tender, wistful	Stops at school bell.
M4	04	Flute and tabla, playful	Warmth, then bittersweet	Soften at "aap ki yaad aayegi".
M5	05	Low percussion and ticking pulse	Tension	Silence at the slap; single cello after.
M6	06	Strings, then bright flute and guitar	Mistrust to joy	Switch at the rooftop cut.
M7	07	Piano and strings, slow build	Bittersweet farewell	Flute joins on the walk to the gate.
M8	08	Inspirational flute and strings	Drive, progress	Crossfade to bass drone at the night scene.
M9	09	Acoustic guitar and flute	Lighthearted romance	Final chord held after the call ends.
M10	10	Cello pulse, then silence, then violin note	Dread then shock	The silence and the ringing after the cut are the effect; no gunshots are used.
M11	11	Sustained strings	Grief	Violin theme returns.
M12	12	Piano with sustained strings; broken flute theme	Loss	Silence under final line.

Sound design principles

- Use silence as a tool: Scenes 05, 10 and 12 each contain a deliberate silent beat.
- Ambient layers: Karachi city hum under every Karachi scene; clean hush in China scenes for contrast.
- No gunshots are used. The event is implied by a hard cut to silence, followed by a high-pitched ringing (tinnitus effect) for about 4 seconds.
- The ringtone in Scene 10 is a plain default tone, not a melody, to avoid sentimentality.
- All music royalty-free or AI-generated; credit sources in the end card.

9. Technical Specification

Delivery

Aspect ratio	16:9 for the entire film. (The first draft allowed 9:16 for the grave scene; dropped for consistency. A vertical social-media crop can be made later.)
Resolution	1280×720 minimum as per the brief; target 1920×1080 where the tool allows it.
Frame rate	24 fps (cinema look). Slow motion shots generated or retimed as 48 fps.
File / codec	MP4, H.264, 10–16 Mbps, AAC audio.
Colour space	Rec.709, SDR.
Audio	48 kHz stereo; dialogue/VO peak −12 dB; music −18 dB under dialogue; final loudness approximately −16 LUFS.
Subtitles	English burned-in; Roman Urdu available on request.
Editing	Any non-linear editor; cuts follow the shot list; most dialogue scenes cut on gesture, not on word.
Total	86 shots, about 9 min 40 s, 12 scenes.

Lens and framing guide

Lens	Used for	Why
24mm (wide)	Establishing, isolation, aerials	Shows environment and how small Bakhtawar is inside it.
35mm	Dialogue, walking shots, groups	Natural perspective; the “human eye” default.
50mm	OTS, two-shots, inserts	Intimate but undistorted.
85mm	Emotional close-ups	Compresses background, isolates feelings.
100mm macro	Inserts: paper aeroplane, hands, watch, phone	Objects as emotional anchors.

Camera movement rules

- Handheld: vulnerability, tension (Bakhtawar’s scenes, the shop, the crowd).
- Static / locked-off: control and coldness (Gull Khan, Haleema, the interrogation of the empty arrivals hall).
- Slow push-in: emotional reveal or realisation, always on a face.
- Steadicam follow: journeys: airport walk, arrivals, cemetery walk.
- Rack focus: shifting attention from person to object (paper aeroplane, family behind him, sunset sky).
- No whip pans or flashy transitions: the tone is realistic and restrained.

Colour script

Phase	Palette	Meaning
Prologue / childhood	Warm amber, light grain	Memory, warmth, loss.

Phase	Palette	Meaning
Karachi, Act I	Dusty ochre, warm tungsten, harsh midday contrast	Hardship, home, struggle.
China	Cool blue-white, clean	Discipline, distance, opportunity.
Airport, Scenes 09–10	Warm gold to dramatic orange	Hope, then catastrophe under a beautiful sky.
Aftermath, Scenes 11–12	Desaturated blue-grey, cold fluorescent	Grief and emptiness.

Lighting guide

- Bakhtawar: soft window light, rim light in key moments (he is “a dreamer in the light”).
- Gull Khan: side or top light, half the face in shadow in private scenes; flat even light in public to match his mask.
- Ali Ustad: harsh overhead light, hard shadows under eyes.
- Shahna: warm, soft key light; backlit by the sun when she is hopeful.
- Hospital: cold fluorescent; deliberately unflattering.

Continuity notes

Paper aeroplane	Scene 01 (counter) → 04 (Hareem’s) → 06 (Shahna’s) → 07 (held at airport) → 11 (Hareem’s) → 12 (on grave). Keep size, folds and notebook paper the same.
Bakhtawar’s age	10 / 17–18 / 22: change costume, hair, stubble and posture between phases.
Pilot-wings pin	Appears only from Scene 09 onward.
Hareem’s age	11 in Scenes 03–07; 16 from Scene 08 onwards (new hairstyle).
Gull Khan’s prayer beads	Appear in Scenes 06, 08, 10, 11; absent from his genuinely sincere moments (there are none).
Time of day	Dawn (01), morning (02), recess (03), afternoon (04–05), dusk (06), early morning (07), night (08), afternoon (09), sunset (10), night/dawn (11), dusk (12).

10. Storyboard Overview

One key frame per scene, to be used as the first image generated and as the reference panel for the animatic. Full shot-by-shot frames are in Section 6.

Sc.	Key frame	Frame description	Framing	BGM
01	Boy looks up at an aeroplane	CU of a child in a dusty shop, a paper aeroplane on the counter, a real plane in the window.	CU · 85mm	Solo flute
02	Smile and shadow	Gull Khan in the doorway smiling; Bakhtawar half-asleep and hurt.	MS · 35mm	Flute + cello drone
03	Bench under the neem tree	Two teenagers talk; dappled sunlight; worried and tender faces.	OTS · 50mm	Guitar + flute
04	Paper aeroplane handover	Brother kneels to hand his sister a paper aeroplane in a sunlit lane.	MCU · 50mm	Flute + tabla
05	Raised hand	Ustad, towering, hand raised; frozen customers; a small boy before him.	MS · low angle	Tense pulse
06	Rooftop joy	Bakhtawar holding the scholarship letter, Shahna clapping, golden light.	WS · 24mm	Bright flute
07	The four at the airport	Group embrace, tears, cool blue light behind.	MS group · 35mm	Piano + strings
08	Parallel lives	Split frame: library in China, study in Karachi; same posture, same lamp.	Match cut	Inspirational strings
09	The last call	Bakhtawar smiling at a phone, a plane behind the lounge window.	MCU · 85mm	Guitar
10	Empty exit	Bakhtawar with a suitcase walking into orange light; blurred figures behind.	WS · 24mm	Cello pulse
11	Hospital collapse / dry-eyed aunt	Shahna's collapse; the funeral, Haleema's fixed gaze.	MS · handheld	Strings
12	The aeroplane on the grave	Overhead of Shahna by the grave; contrail above; the paper aeroplane on the earth.	Top-down · 24mm	Silence

11. AI Generation Plan — Prompts for Omni Flash (Google Flow) (the 5%)

Generation is deliberately small: 12 key frames and 4 short hero clips. Everything is already decided in the script; the tool only executes the shots.

Global style block (paste at the start of every prompt)

"Cinematic realism, present-day Karachi, Pakistan, 16:9, 24fps, shallow depth of field, natural skin texture, subtle film grain, soft realistic lighting, Rec.709 colour, no text."

Negative prompt (paste in every generation)

"cartoon, anime, extra fingers, deformed hands, distorted faces, text, subtitles, watermark, logos, blood, gore, weapons, injuries, nudity, western signage."

Character consistency blocks

Use the AI prompt block from each character sheet (Section 4) verbatim. First generate a reference sheet (front, 3/4, profile) for Bakhtawar, Shahna, Hareem and Gull Khan; use those images as references in every later generation.

Scene prompts

ID	Scene	Type	Prompt (add global style + character blocks)
P01	01	Hero clip (6 s)	Aerial view of Karachi rooftops at dawn, water tanks and laundry lines, orange sky, a passenger plane crossing high above, warm golden light, hazy atmosphere. Slow push-in.
P02	02	Key frame	Interior of a modest old Karachi bedroom in the morning, a 17-year-old boy sitting up in bed in cold window light, a smiling middle-aged man in white shalwar kameez standing in the doorway, tension beneath the smile.
P03	03	Key frame	Government school courtyard under a neem tree, a 17-year-old boy and girl in school uniform talking on a bench, dappled sunlight, tender mood, 85mm shallow depth of field.
P04	04	Key frame	Narrow Karachi lane in afternoon sun, a teenage boy kneeling to hand a folded paper aeroplane to his 11-year-old sister, long golden shadows, warm tones.
P05	05	Hero clip (5 s)	Dusty Karachi grocery shop interior, harsh midday light through a half-shutter, a heavy older shopkeeper behind the counter seen from a low angle, a young man in the doorway seen from a high angle, tense, high contrast. Slow push-in.
P06	06	Key frame	Two adjoining rooftops in Karachi at golden hour, a teenage boy laughing and holding an envelope, a girl clapping, warm rim light, gentle lens flare, joy.
P07	07	Key frame	Airport departure hall at early morning, four people embracing a young man with a backpack, tearful faces, soft blue light with warm interior lights, shallow depth of field.
P08	08	Key frame	Split composition: a young man studying late at night in a university library in China under a desk lamp; a young woman in a white pharmacy lab coat studying in Karachi; cool and warm colour contrast.
P09	09	Key frame	Young man in an airport transit lounge video-calling on his phone, large window with an aeroplane at the gate behind him, warm sunlight, smiling, medium close-up.
P10	10	Hero clip (6 s)	Karachi airport exit at sunset, a lone young man with a suitcase walking into orange light, two blurred figures on a motorbike far behind, long shadows, tense mood. Alternate aftermath frame: a dropped suitcase and a ringing phone on the pavement, crowd feet blurred, no people injured visible, no weapons, no blood.

ID	Scene	Type	Prompt (add global style + character blocks)
P11	11	Key frame	Hospital corridor with cold fluorescent light, a young woman collapsing into the arms of a crying girl; second frame: dawn cemetery with men in white, grey light, subdued colours, no gore.
P12	12	Hero clip (8 s)	Young woman in a white dupatta kneeling beside a fresh grave under an overcast sky, placing a small paper aeroplane on the mound; overhead variant with an aeroplane contrail crossing the sky; deeply sad, desaturated tones, soft rim light.

Workflow in Omni Flash (Google Flow)

1. Generate character reference sheets (4 characters) and approve them.
2. Generate the 12 key frames (P01–P12), using the character references.
3. Convert the 4 hero frames (P01, P05, P10, P12) to short clips with the movement from the shot list.
4. Use the remaining frames as stills with slow push-ins (editing software) to keep the 5% budget.
5. Edit in the timeline: voice-over first, then music, then SFX, then subtitles.
6. Export 16:9 MP4. Note: check the tool's own settings for resolution and duration limits before generating.
